

Wedding Photography – FAQ

How far will you travel?

I cover weddings throughout the UK and overseas. All expenses within the mainland UK are paid for by me.

I am getting married abroad, what will it cost?

I will travel world-wide. My usual fee is chargeable and all travel, meals and accommodation expenses will either be charged at cost plus VAT if I settle the bill, or can be purchased/settled directly by you. Any chargeable expenses (e.g. excess luggage, necessary inoculations etc.) are invoiced at cost plus VAT.

How many photographs will you take?

There is no fixed number as each wedding is unique. The determining factors are usually the number of locations, the time between the ceremony and the wedding breakfast, and the number of guests; You can expect to have over 600 pictures to choose from, but at larger weddings which have an early start I quite often take over 800.

We like the reportage style but can you take some formal groups?

Yes! I take these as quickly as possible with the minimum of fuss. Usually formal groups take no longer than 15 minutes but I also suggest doing some fun groups – particularly of your friends, bridesmaids and ushers – later in the day when everyone is more relaxed, and stressful events like the speeches are out of the way.

Do we need to give you a meal?

Yes please. As I am with you all day I need something to keep me going! I normally expect to eat the same meal as your guests. If not, a hot meal of the same quality is required. Many clients invite me to eat with their guests at one of the tables, but this is not necessary and I am happy to eat in another room nearby.

Can you supply an additional photographer?

Yes. I can cover weddings of all sizes on my own, however, there are instances where the requirement to be in two places at once means that an additional photographer can be advantageous. Additional photographer from £850.

When will our pictures be available on the internet?

Your pictures are usually available on line within 48 hours of our meeting. Access is by password only, and clients usually include details with their thank you cards. I can supply wording for this. Friends and family can purchase copies of the photos securely on line using a credit/debit card.

How many photographs should we have in our album?

It's entirely up to you. Most clients choose between 130 and 180 pictures for their album, typically spending an additional £500 - £2000 extra on their album – because they love all the pictures!

How long will the album take?

Once you have chosen the pictures for your album I design it and send a layout to you for approval. Usually your album will take 6 – 8 weeks from approval to delivery.

Do I have to have an album?

I offer a Digital only option, but either of the two albums I offer will give you a fantastic record of the day. Both albums are made to order around the pictures you choose and will be designed using a variety of sizes and shapes with attention given to each individual image. They are fabulous to look at, and are not the sort of album you can buy in a shop because each one is bespoke - truly an investment for a lifetime.

Can you reserve our date?

I receive more enquiries than I have dates available. Dates are reserved only once the deposit has been paid, and are booked on a first come first served basis.
